2            P.U. 6(2012) and P.U. 9(2013) provided special rate considerations for Vale and 3            Praxair. Please provide an analysis showing that the special rate consideration 4            continues to be justified, and provide an estimate of when the special rate

8    A.    In Hydro's view, the special rate consideration continues to be justified until such 9            time as these customers reach mature operations and their respective demand 10           profiles justify a normal ratcheted demand service agreement model. At this time, 11           Hydro does not have any specific knowledge as to when this will occur.
